Privacy Policy

At eric we are committed to ensuring that your personal information is protected.

This policy sets out how we collect, store, use and disclose your personal information collected by us or our distributors. When the term 'we' is used in this policy we mean eric and our distributors, including but not limited to our Third-Party Introducers and Authorised Representatives.

Collecting and holding your personal information

Personal information is information, or an opinion, about an identified individual or an individual reasonably identifiable from that information, or opinion. We may ask for a broad range of personal information as part of providing a policy to you, which is necessary to determine whether we can offer you insurance cover.

We will generally ask for your name, address, contact details, date of birth, gender, insurance history, financial history, employment information, information about the asset you are seeking insurance for or eligibility requirements of the product you have applied for, and any other personal information which assists us to ensure we can accurately offer and administer the product. Depending on the product you choose we may also ask for sensitive information, such as your health records and criminal history.

Where possible, you can interact with us anonymously or using a pseudonym. However, if you choose not to provide the information as requested, we may not be able to provide our services. For example, we will not be able to provide you with insurance coverage if you want to remain anonymous or use a pseudonym. Our primary purpose of collecting personal information is to provide you with general insurance, consumer credit insurance or miscellaneous financial risk products. We collect your personal information to:

- Identify you and conduct appropriate identification checks.
- Provide you with a product or service.
- Set up, administer, and manage your policy including the management of claims and renewals of your policy.
- Assess and investigate a claim made by you under one or more of our products.
- Manage, train, and develop our employees and representatives.
- Manage complaints and disputes, and report to dispute resolution bodies or regulators.
- Comply with any legal requirements.

We generally collect your personal information directly from you, by using written or online forms, discussions with you in person and over the telephone or from publicly available sources of information. We may also collect your personal information from third parties, including our distributors at point of sale, our service providers, reporting bodies and from other persons or organisations as relevant.

Use and Disclosure

We may hold, use, and disclose your information for:

- The purpose of identifying you.
- The primary purpose for which the information was collected (please see “Collecting and holding your personal information” above).
- A purpose for which you have consented.
- Direct marketing.
- Any other purpose authorised or required by an Australian law, court, or tribunal.

We may use and disclose your personal information for the primary purpose or for a permitted secondary purpose. We may disclose your personal information to:

- Contracted third party service providers including investigative, information technology, legal, audit and monitoring, payment processing, analytical, marketing, and debt collection services.
- Distributors, or intermediaries connected with your policy such as your advisor or broker.
- Your financier or credit institution.
- Credit reporting agencies.
- Hospitals and health professionals.
- The Australian Financial Complaints Authority or any other relevant dispute resolution body.
- Policy or product holders or others who are authorised or noted on the policy as having a legal interest.
- Other insurers, loss assessors and related claims management services.
- Government regulators and enforcement bodies.

We may offer you other products or services which may be of interest to you. We may use the personal information we hold to market these products directly to you. You can opt out of these offers by emailing privacy@ericinsurance.com.au. Once we receive your request to opt out from receiving marketing information, we will stop sending them promptly.

Some third parties that we disclose personal information to are located overseas in the following countries: United States of America, United Kingdom, and the Philippines. We may send and store personal information overseas to the extent that it is necessary to perform our functions or activities.

Security of your personal information

We take all reasonable steps to protect personal information under our control from misuse, interference, and loss and from unauthorised access, modification, or disclosure.

We hold your personal information in secure security systems, electronic databases, digital records, telephone recordings and in hardcopy or paper files.

We will take all reasonable steps to protect your personal information from misuse, unauthorised access, modification, disclosure, and loss.

The ways we do this include:

- Maintaining and continually improving IT security protocols.
- Requiring any third-party providers to have adequate measures to protect your personal information.
- Ensuring our premises and equipment are secure.
- Destroying or de-identifying information as required.
- Providing training to employees and representatives regarding their privacy obligations.
- Providing authorised persons with user identifiers, passwords, or other access codes.

While we take the above steps to protect the security of your personal information, data protection and security measures can never be guaranteed. Accordingly, we cannot guarantee the security of your personal information.

Accessing your information and ensuring it is correct

We rely on the information we hold about you to efficiently conduct our business of providing products and services. For this reason, it is very important that the information we collect from you is accurate, complete and up to date. If your information changes, please inform us by contacting 1800 999 977 so that we may update our records.

You have a right to request access to personal information we hold about you. If you would like to request access to the personal information we hold about you, please contact our Customer Service team by contacting 1800 999 977, or eric's Privacy Officer at privacy@ericinsurance.com.au. You may be required to provide further information to us to identify yourself.

We may refuse your request in some circumstances, such as:

- Giving access to the information would pose a serious threat to the life, health, or safety of a person.
- Giving access would have an unreasonable impact on the privacy of a person.
- The information relates to existing or anticipated legal proceedings and would not be available under the discovery process.
- Where denying access is required or authorised by an Australian law or court order.

We seek to handle all requests for access to personal information promptly. You have the right to request that we correct any inaccurate, out-of-date, incomplete, or misleading personal information. We will update your details immediately in accordance with our General Insurance Code of Practice requirements. We will also take reasonable steps to ensure that the correction takes place across all records that hold the information.

Complaints

We take privacy complaints very seriously. We have established a formal Privacy Complaints Procedure to deal with any complaints lodged with us in relation to breaches of the Australian Privacy Principles or the Privacy Act 1988. If you have a complaint about how we collect, hold, use, or disclose your personal information or if you believe we have not protected your personal information in accordance with this Privacy Policy you may lodge a complaint with us. If you make a complaint, we will acknowledge your complaint within 1 business day. We will then investigate the complaint and will try to resolve your complaint within 30 calendar days. When this is not possible, we will contact you to let you know our revised response date. Once we have completed our investigation, we will notify you of any decision in relation to the complaint.

Complaints can be made through contacting us on the details below.
